

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

The front brake of an electric motor has mechanical structure and is fitted on the output spindle at the front end of the electric motor, able to diminish
5 the dimensions of an electric motor and save cost, and having no problem pertaining to circuit control and power compatibility in case of maintenance.

10